

De klagers (the complainers) the title has way more gravitas in Dutch... as such...

The first thing you might notice about a chronic complainer is that they look very, very, angry, ugly, bitter, unhealthy, and illusively urbaner than most.

Self-absorbed, eternally, and loudly, exclaiming!

Forever the victim, with absolutely no filter system.

Xenophobic, small minded, mindfucks hell bent on just bitching.

They are malingering malingerers, eavesdroppers.

An appease me, feed me plague...

Sucking everything into their void vortex, brimming with ridiculous, mindless rantings & raves...

Holding their heads high with self-righteous indignance,

Anger mingled with contempt they can be incessantly, destructively and awfully persistent.

Aggressive posturing with pumped out chins and chests...

In their vain attempts to say to the world,

that they are the best.

Alsjeblieft man!... Now give me a break!

And just give it a rest!

When they speak their voice has a witch like cackle or a mumbling droll of disrespect so too has their laughter being void of humor, love or aspect...

Snarky, oblivious, transparent at best...

Nasty, petty, aggressive emoat-ee-cons.

Always looking for someone else to blame it all on...

For their own miserable life...

In this case I'm referring to your ugly neighbors their children, grandchildren and even uglier wives...

Oh and their incessantly shrill barking, obese, ridiculous, shitting dog,,

Oh my god!

Give the poor beast some attention at least a modicum of love.

And one neighbor's eternal sniffing, non-rhythmic drumming,

A frenzy of thumping, I hope his wife knows that he's coming. (Without her)

Out of tune wind chimes, loud phone calls, and smoke driven hacking...
A constant, unnecessary, daily orchest-er-raall backing.

Note; He really does need to do something with his snoze, but nobody knows better than those with a permanent tick snorting stuffed nose ... and a penchant for unnecessary, excessive, unwanted and unneeded ridiculous noise.

Exclaiming, But hey it's my right!
to use power tools whenever I want to, like in the middle of the night!
To intrude and impose with my obnoxious nose.
my poison on everyone else's much more sat_is_factory life's...

Says this balding dead head... who should have never ever been allowed out of his birth bed.

So here are some examples to help you recognize these pesky complainers' who will try to take over, dominate and make misery and strife,
just to justify their own tortured existence's,
Their mind numbing, going nowhere,
ridiculous lives...

So I definitely recommend that you avoid them at all costs cos they are definitely and definitively not the world's boss...

Beware, take care of the darkness which is a complainer and the nothingness they give, interested only in draining energy through their relentless, obnoxious, oblivious fib sieve,
in which these pathetic people continue to live...
The enormity they take, they are the ultimate fakes...
Ahhhh Exhale...

What more can I say but hey
if u encounter these fuckers simply walk the other way...
